Subject: Re: The 40 comments - as they were.

Tks for this. I am going to post the entire comments of this post "REACTION TO THE 2nd BRAIN SCAN" from M Kirks blog on my blog as a} I dont like these characters ridiculous slurs, muckslinging, personal vendettas and groundless accusations, say from "Merion" who I feel really is in a dream world.

b} the censorship that prevails when one tries to answer the muckslinging and personal vendettas and unfounded accusations etc when one answers these vendettas by pointing out certain of these making these comments are involved in the darker side themselves as my comment in reply tries to show which has been removed from the comments {my comments removed below near the bottom of these comments under the name "butlincat"}.

Why these characters are using M Kirks blog to do this I can only wonder - i think it is a gross liberty and bang out of order and I will be sending the lot to Maurice forthwith.

This "Merion" character really seems to me to be in a dream world - these accusations he keeps coming out with prove my point exactly. I for one havent a clue what hes on about, eg a "link" between my home town and wales - I have only ever tried to help Maurice in any way I have been able, the same as my friends the Musas. I believe little of that is said by this "commenter" and there is much that has gone on behind the scenes going back years that will never be mentioned here yet is relavant to certain of these dubious and misleading comments - mostly the ones that do not concern Maurice Kirk and are therefore out of place here.

The censorship of my comments from this post from M Kirks blog - replaced here below at the bottom mostly in reply to "Merion" just reinforces my entire opinion - that certain people must feel it simply cannot be made public that a certain person is not on the right side as my comment tries to show, the reason for the disclaimer on my blog here - at the top of the site, on the right in red writing.

These people are not doing anything by muckslinging and causing ill feeling as they are - others in the comments must love the confusion and ire it creates, such is their mentality. why dont they do something useful with their time instead of airing their wayward fantasies designed to take us away from what ive tried to explain in my comments that had to be removed?

With these criminal accusations its no wonder I am offering to have my ISP's servers checked for any form of "malicious" communications {criminal activity} from day of my subscription with them - from 2006 and any before then.

And I notice since my comments were deleted others have merely re-echoed what I have said - about using this place wrongly, as "Northern Rock" has, for example. My name is John Graham. why are "Northern Rock" and "White Ferret" unable to put their real identities along with their comments - why are they hiding behind a pseudonyms? Are they in fact other commenters posing as new commenters and why cant they say who they really are? Highly suspicious.

It is now impossible to get on the site at all now, as it appears I am locked out - such is the censorship on the site.

From <http://www.kirkflyingvet.com> - UNCENSORED COMMNTS from the post: "REACTION TO 2nd BRAIN SCAN?"

As some wondered what would be the reaction to the news of Maurice's second brain scan, he received a call from the south wales Police who wanted to talk to him.

He duly went to Barry police station on Tuesday afternoon and was promptly arrested on suspicion of breaking a restraining order.

We can only wait and see what evidence they have of this latest alleged transgression.

In South Wales, it seems the Police ensures lawlessness...

It is said that the Doctor who gave unlawful information in order to have Maurice Kirk convicted as well as his wife are on sick because of MJK harassment.

If this is true, then someone has to be taking the Michael.

This presumably means that they would both be paid sick leave from the public purse by the NHS.

So, this raises a number of questions.

1. Does this mean that they are also too ill, or unfit to work at their other private clinics.
2. If this is the case, could it not be argued that they are taking money presumably from the public purse under false pretences.
3. Where do they have their main income from NHS Wales or their Private Clinics.
4. With NHS Wales having an in depth knowledge of this case; and having their own people sitting in the public galleries during Maurice Kirk's cases, would it not be appropriate to suspend this Doctor and his wife with immediate effect.
5. An NHS Wales Doctor has proved another NHS Wales Doctor wrong. Surely, the honourable duty of the public funded NHS Wales is to investigate.
6. How many other cases has this doctor got wrong.
7. Naturally there are Royal Charters immunities to prosecutions, however, it is a matter of public interest and confidence to investigate fit and proper use of public monies in this instance, and protect the integrity and trust of those that may be tarnished by any disrepute that may have been brought upon NHS Wales by this Doctor.
7. Should this Doctor have brought the Caswell Clinic and NHS Wales into disrepute, then NHS Wales has a duty to act accordingly.

3. Why would anyone with 'incriminating' evidence against "Them" offer it up here? Here is NOT the arena - where those working quietly in the background are NOT going to "Disclose" their hand. Only a 'fool' would do that; or a fools fool.

4. This is a message for "Them" - they are damned by thier own hand. It's what they "have done" contrary to what they "have not done" - which NAILS them and their COLOURS TO THE MAST.

5. Intelligence up: Anyone noticed ... over the past 3 years or so, how so many "other eminent (?) professionals (?) have been 'libelled', 'defamed', 'slandered' and 'scandalised'? [Dohhhh!] yet not one of those others has 'DARED' to trot or ski along to the 'Libel' courts in London [RCJ] (This is the internet you know) .... Now why would that be? I will also agree that opinions are not facts, I am a victim myself of torpedoed bizarre opinions; that lack facts.

In the gathering of information and extensive research, then, bringing it all together you build up your facts,

This then becomes your tool, even as far as having a different perspective and greater understanding of that psycho gene that drives those drunk with power to abuse others.

Research by scientists into the psychopathic gene makes really interesting reading, particularly when it comes down to understanding what drives those that believe that they have that power over others when they don't.

Why would that somebody who has to do with M's latest arrest do that???

What could / should have been the information about that 'somebody' gave me or wanted from me?

Why would somebody lie about communication with me?

Why do I matter to somebody?

My only rational explanation for this psychopathic development of a whole Nation is the "public" school system where little boys are emotionally crippled by being separated from their families.

The "compensation" consists of "sexual favours" which turn into secrets of bonding for later life.

One child victim told Ian Josephs [www.forced-adoption.com] how he was paid by his teacher...

Don't know whether it's a 'gene', Meirion. But maybe a predisposition helps... In any case it's a challenge to the person to clear their conscience by the time they lie on their deathbed...

he was cut off during his latest call after 50 seconds - just when he was about to say about the cover-up over the harrassment case. In these phone calls you will hear how he says he sent a communication to the CLINIC - not to anyone personally - and a whole 6 weeks passed before he was to be arrested for allegedly breaking the so-called "restraining order" - 6 weeks! It is funny how he was arrested when it became clear he had no brain tumour whatsoever as it has been alleged for 3 years in a report which is now proven to be completely unfactual, finally made after 3 long years attempting to get a scan done. It has made a mockery out of him being classed as a danger to the public because of the attributes of this non-existent brain tumour and there is no reason whatsoever why he shouldve been locked up for 8 months on the strengths of a false report. How can a doctor claim a person has a brain tumour if no brain scan was ever done - and how can it be claimed a person is in the top 5% of dangerous individuals in the country also. The report is here also - {scroll down} butlincat.wordpress.com/.../m-kirk-call-from-cardiff-prison-08-17am-31-aug-12 -...b.

I can tell you that those that have caused wrongdoings to Mr Kirk over the last twenty years have tried and will continue to try and close this site down.

Suzon Forscey Moore as a highly qualified Legal Researcher had done a lot of work in respect of Royal Charters. She educated Mr Kirk significantly on the subject particularly in relevance to the way he was stripped of his Professional Qualifications.

I fail to ignore and do sadly take note of hidden snipes in your comment and that of BIGWHISTLEBLOWER.

Mr Kirk's decision not to have a solicitor to represent him is down to his choice. If he chooses to rely on someone that is not a solicitor, then he has that lawful right to do so.

The Court does not like it obviously.

I understand that Mr Kirk has been using people sitting in the public gallery to be his Mckenzie Friends.

Whatever you and the other peoples thoughts are of Mckenzie friends, supportive roles of Mckenzie friends are recognised and here to stay.

I understand that those that support Mr Kirk and acted as Mckenzie Friends are from varying professional backgrounds.

They may not have the full knowledge of the law but they are upright enough and certainly intelligent enough to see outside the box,

There is one thing for certain, they are definitely no fools.

* Facts: and there is more than just a paper trail to substantiate matters. Are you aware that SFM 'blamed' her 'dead husband' for her having to remain in the UK for so long while she wanted to return to the US? She admitted as much and more herself, before she died. 100% proven - paper trail. Sabine your comment on that matter with your added implication has been noted.

But you don't.

The Machine Gun Trial - Ground Breaking acquittal. It is know that a Judge stated "has it been taken down" [this site]. During the Trial the site could not be taken down because

A - It is/was not a contempt of court to publish issues of proceedings that have been aired publicly And,

B - It IS NOT a contempt of court to publish extracts from Archbold as was done at the time. The laws of what the Court & Judge appeared to be attempting to skirt around were published - making it very difficult for the court to cry contempt. Ergo - could any juror have been done for contempt for merely appraising themselves of the laws [Viewing this website] when they were clearly not being properly informed of the laws by the court and its administrators? Kudos to those 'few' [with their many differences of opinion] who came together and did some good Re Natural justice at the time. Shame on the detractors.

Mr White Ferrat - there is no mystery about how SFM died - save that you are 'now' trying to create some mystery where there 'has been none' before.

If you understand the jurisdictional differences between different states then you appear to not have understood that SFM's 'big affidavit' [blasted out all over the UK] was presented into a Florida US Court - thus its inferences - whilst many good points were made; had no effect here in the UK's courts i.e. It bore no weight or legal force - because it was NOT launched into UK court. Don't try to kid me while you kid others - there are issues behind SFM - which btw were brought to her attention before her death - many legal issues which had bearing on her whole cause movement which sadly she latterly recognised as that she had only been looking at half of the picture. And evidence exists that she only ever once stepped into a UK court to help someone. She claimed to have won - but she only managed to get the fine against her son reduced from approx £1500 to about £800 - I wouldn't call that a 'win'. It wasn't a win.

Seeing as people are being accused as to making "threats" etc {which is highly illegal} - which i find quite frankly a bit questionable in the circumstances - i have to say again that im willing to have all of my computers forensically tested by any agency you can get your accusing and fantasy ridden head around Merion - its ok for Mcneil to call me up and tell me to take down what in essence are trivial videos she resents showing her outside the RCJ "demonstrating" that she accuses me of putting online, when in reality i know nothing about them, {and i have the phone recording of her accusations to prove it}, or phone me up with blatant lies as she has before, or to put both my phone numbers online deliberately on her self-publicity-seeking "blog" as a particularly hostile act towards someone - these dubious acts by one of your cronies go unmentioned dont they Merion, until now? You talk about "threats" yet your not so whiter - than -white cronies who you gang up with are guilty themselves of dubious behaviour - they work behind the scenes against people just as you claim certain people are doing by making these "threats". And I would say people receiving "threats" is questionable anyway - your cronies would willingly gang up on someone by saying they had threats as the underhand behaviour ive described has already occurred that i can prove. What worries me is what negative acts this person or people have demonstrated against the Musa family, making out theyre supporting them, along with other cases of victimised targets theyve taken part in - too much surrounds certain cases whereby one of your cronies has been involved that is highly questionable - that much is obvious.

Merion - you said

"4 Tonight a number of Kirk supporters have been the subject of malicious calls and threats".

Well if this is the case why dont you go to the authorities first thing in the morning? Im calling your bluff and saying youre making things up. Any agency of repute will find the source of any "malicious calls and threats" that you claim have taken place within minutes. Lets see the truth and deal with it. Ive a good mind to do what I say myself.

I say youre making things up and ive a good mind to do it myself as i resent your serious criminal accusations.

What do you say?

What a price to pay to support a man seeking justice.

However there are over fifty names of many elderly and jewish good citizens have gone through such degrading treatment from Master Hamilton.

So I will remind Northernrock what is displayed in this shop window is what people have experienced the length and breadth of the UK.

I understand that Mr Owen just one of that over fifty victims despite his result, regrets not going through police channels rather than private prosecutions.

The more Maurice asks of his supporters the worst the situation gets. And more dangerous.

The answer here is now simple.

I shall forward all of Mr Kirk's correspondence and request to the "Bates Motel" in Bournemouth so that you both can assist with his demands together.

Maurice's 60+ files will follow later. Therefore I would suggest that you warn Mrs Gould that a large delivery is expected.

Perhaps these threats and racial undercurrents will then hopefully, be terminated, and that risk to life, limb and property will be reduced.

Should you both have to re enter medical establishments then I am sure this material can be collected from Dorset Police with whom I have reason to believe family members work.

There are links between South Wales and Bournemouth, therefore the doctor in question in South Wales may very well have a private clinic there.

Should this be the case then perhaps they can be returned via those channels.

I am wasting time and energy that could be used elsewhere.

I am delighted by the prospect of police intervention and even more delighted by the thought of legal action from you both.

Both is a matter of Public Interest as conduct displayed in this shop window is replicated towards others the length and breadth of the UK.

I don't need reminding of anything thanks,i find all of this posting of peoples names ridiculous and am mortified of the personal agendas played out here,not to mention serious allegations that i hope are taken further by the intended recipient.

What on earth has become of people who offer the hand of assistance,but have a hidden agenda behind it? It makes them no better than the very Authorities they are trying to get some semblance of apology and explanations from.

Too many are persecuted enough for standing up for themselves or what they believe to be right in this life,they don't need people with disgusting hidden agendas bending their vulnerable emotions even further.

Hang your heads,and either help Mr Kirk for no ego trip or agenda or get your narcissitic kicks elsewhere.

My sentiments exactly.

Speaking the truth is clearly a crime and freedom of speech is on trial.

Helping Mr Kirk, and carrying out his wishes comes with a price.

That price is clearly identified within the comments.
